Calacatta is precious and refined with almost gray veins that give rooms an enveloping elegance. The white whites are contrasted by the intensity of the black, with a decidedly spectacular impact.

Stone materials are back in the spotlight once again in the 82M2191 design. top – class natural marble from the most renowned quarries in Italy and Europe whose typical nuances of color and original veining patterns – sometimes delicate, others more dramatic – are enhanced by the beautifully polished finish. The collection is thus the expression of classic style given an elegant modern look thanks also to different thicknesses and formats as well as new large sizes.

Elegy of absolute beauty: monumental architecture, extraordinary works of art become everyday landscapes living again on surfaces featured by an all-Italian classicism. A pentagram, images of elegance, suggestions of wealth, memories of tradition and culture chase each other and merge, creating a surprisingly contemporary harmony. History and art are thus brought into the present and take on a new life thanks to a refined work of synthesis and balance that makes the proposal very up-to-date, of a timeless modernity.

Porcelain stoneware takes on various appearances depending on the material being replicated. In the case of stoneware that looks like tumbled stone, the tiles replicate the aesthetic styling of antique-looking floor tiles with pebbles featuring rounded and irregular edges. Versatile and elegant products suitable for use as indoor and outdoor floors and wall tiles.

In recent years, the world architecture and interior design has witnessed a real re-launch of industrial style, stemming from the desire to give a new lease of life to existing constructions and spaces and celebrate the beauty of disused factories and workplaces. This unique trend has very much influenced the furnishing sector including the world of ceramic surfaces, leading to the design of numerous concrete-look porcelain tiles inspired by the material typical of this style.

Porcelain tiles are environment-friendly, safe and hygienic insofar as they do not release any toxic substances, not even in the event of fire; they are easy to clean, because they do not absorb stains and are extremely resistant to trampling, stresses and scratching, making them perfect even in heavily-trafficked ambiances.

Technological innovation in ceramic production has made it possible to create concrete-look stoneware collections offering a very true reconstruction of the semblance of raw concrete, flaked plaster and modern cement. Thanks to advanced decoration techniques, not only have the minimalist details and unique features of concrete been re-created, but also the aesthetic appeal of aged surfaces marked by the passing of time, which convey the hallmarks of artisan manual work and the passage of man, making them almost eternal and unchanging, as is stoneware by nature.
